HARD FOUGHT BATTLE YESTERDAY

REBELS PRESSING JUAREZ CLOSE LY—FIRE DOES MUCH DAMAGE.

SEVERAL AMERICANS KILLED

Bullets Fly Into El Paso Doing Execution.

El Paso, Tex., May 10.—Fire in Juarez has broken out anew at 12:15 o'clock this morning.

The entire town seems to be ablaze. The Mexican Northwestern freight depot, the Mexican Central passenger depot and the city market place are burning.

El Paso, Tex., May 9.—At midnight it is apparent the crisis is near in the Juarez battle, which has raged all day fiercely, with heavy losses both to the Mexican rebels and the federals. Those who have followed the situation closely say the rebels have an advantage, and it is freely predicted they will make their most determined efforts before daylight to take the city from the Diaz troops.

Hundreds of Dead and Wounded.

It has been difficult to secure particulars from across the river, but it is stated by those who have been nearer the fighting than the crowds on the American side of the Rio Grande that there are hundreds of dead and wounded soldiers in the streets, trenches and buildings of Juarez, and that many more are dying because of being unable to receive treatment for their wounds.

Hand-to-hand fighting has been in progress many hours, and tonight, after a lull in which both sides seemed glad to take a rest, the battle has been resumed on a heavier scale and fire has broken out in a number of buildings.

Rebels Apply Torch to Buildings.

Late this afternoon several buildings were given the torch by the rebels and flames soon destroyed the postoffice and other near-by buildings.

Since 6 o'clock tonight there has been an addition to the number of wounded in El Paso from flying bullets, the total for the day being estimated at fifteen, with two fatalities, both of the later being Mexicans.

The rebels at midnight are removing their dead and wounded from the streets of Juarez, preparatory to making the final supreme effort for the reduction of the city.

El Paso, Tex., May 9.—All day today the Juarez battle has continued, the insurrecto forces gradually advancing into Juarez and taking advantage of all possible cover. They have been met in every advance with resistance that has been truly heroic, and the savage roar of the federal artillery, the shriek of the bursting shells, together with the unending rattle of the busy machine guns, have spoken eloquently of the reception given Madero's forces by Gen. Juan J. Navarro, the gallant old Federal commander in charge at Juarez.

During the day the rebels seemed to continually be gaining the advantage, but developments came slowly, owing to the stubborn contest put up by the federals.

The use of the rebel artillery was limited by order of Madero, it was said, early in the day, to prevent the slaughter of his own men, who were scattered throughout many portions of the town, steadily working and advancing on the federals. Finally, the rebel artillery ceased action altogether while that of the federals roared in almost continued defiance, carrying death and disaster to many in the rebel ranks.

Rebels Use Dynamite.

Along toward the middle of the afternoon, the rebels began the use of dynamite and other explosives, and soon there were fires raging that added to the horror and terror of the situation. The postoffice and two other buildings were soon consumed as there were none to make any effort for the saving of property.

Thousands in El Paso watched the glare of the flames and the news quickly spread that Juarez was being sacked and with the torch the entire city would be quickly wiped out of existence. But the flames spread no further.

In the streets and at other points were lying all day hundreds of dead and wounded, it is said, representing those who had fallen on both sides. The advancing rebels were too busy forcing the fighting to give them any attention and the federals too busy defending their weakening positions. Many died from the lack of attention and hundreds of others suffered all the pangs of a thousand deaths from the pitiless sun that scorched them and added to the flaming fever of their wounds and the thirst that almost consumed them. Efforts made in this city to do something for the relief of the sufferers on both sides of the battle were abortive until late in the afternoon, on account of the red tape connected with the situation.

The exact situation in Juarez can not be learned tonight from the fact that there is no entrance or egress to that city.

It is reported that women are among those slain by the warring factions today and that hundreds are killed and wounded, while the property loss has been correspondingly large.

At 9 o'clock tonight it was said the federals were holding their own so well that the further advance of the rebels had at least been temporarily checked and both sides were indulging in a brief breathing spell preparatory to the final effort that is to bring victory to one side and defeat to the other.

Both sides are badly worn by the continued fighting, but the decisive blow may be struck before morning, which will result either in the capture of the city or an abandonment of the effort.

Chances Favor Rebels.

At 10 o'clock the probabilities seem to be that Juarez will fall, as about 500 fresh rebels have come up on the east under Villareal and are giving active assistance to Madero. These men are from Ojinaga and have with them some artillery, including the famous "blue whistler" recently stolen from El Paso.

The report tonight is that only about 1,000 of Madero's forces are engaged in the assault on Juarez, under the leadership of Gen. Pascual

DEMOCRATS CARRY OKLAHOMA CITY

Oklahoma City, Ok., May 9.—Four democrats, including the mayor, and one republican were elected at the first election held under the commission form of government here today. The socialists polled about 1,800 votes, more than five times the number they have ever polled here before.

The officers elected are: Mayor, Whit M. Grant (D); Commissioner of Public Safety, J. T. Highley (D); Commissioner of Accounting and Finance, Elmer C. Trueblood (D); Commissioner of Public Works, W. H. Hampton (D); Commissioner of Public Property, Guy E. Blackwelder (R).

Democratic Majority Reduced.

The election of the democratic ticket was predicted before the polls opened by a plurality over the republican ticket of 1,000 but at noon Tuesday this had been reduced to 500, and it stayed at that figure until the returns were in. The large vote of the Socialists surprised politicians. It was claimed for a while that this would elect the republican ticket. It turned out, however, that about two-thirds of the Socialist vote were drawn from the democrats and one-third from the republicans.

The election of Blackwelder over Alexander came as a surprise to democratic leaders, and it is attributed to the great personal popularity of the former. He has lived in Oklahoma City since "the opening" in 1889, and always has been popular in the city. The vote for this place was close at all times, and Blackwelder's election was not conceded by Alexander until the last precincts were in.

REFRIGERATORS EASY PAYMENTS SMITH 203-5 W. Main St.

Orozco, who led the first attempt in that direction several months ago.

That the battle of Juarez that has been in progress since shortly before noon yesterday with some intermissions is being fought unwillingly so far as Francisco I. Madero is concerned, is the opinion of those who are in pretty close touch with the situation. Madero appears to have been willing to accept the overtures and promises that were made from the City of Mexico and proceed with the peace overtures until a restless element of his troops precipitated eventualities in the direction of Juarez by either inviting or bringing on the attack.

Even when Juarez appeared almost in the grasp of his army, Madero attempted to restrain them and was partially successful until a late hour when information came from the City of Mexico that the capital was laughing at the failure of Madero to do what he should have done at the psychological moment.

Smarting under the sting of these taunts and strictures, the rebel leader gave permission for his entire force to at once attack Juarez, and the lull that had occurred in the fighting last night was followed by a sharp renewal in the attack before daylight this morning.

It is reported that fully 500 of Madero's forces are lying in the trenches in the mountains back of Juarez with "cold feet" and refusing to participate in the fray.

Bail Denied the McNamara's.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 9.—The application of John J. McNamara for the fixing of bail on the charge of dynamiting was disallowed today by Superior Judge Bordwell. Judge Bordwell said he disallowed the application without prejudice and that it could be renewed later. McNamara was not in court.

The trials of the McNamara brothers on charges of murder by dynamiting are not expected to be held until September, according to official statements today. These statements were made upon the supposition that the defense will ask for delay.

SUPREME COURT DECIDES 100 CASES

Oklahoma City, May 10.—The supreme court of the state convened in Oklahoma City yesterday with a full bench and handed down one hundred decisions. None of the cases decided were in anyway sensational or of sweeping importance.

Perhaps the decision with more widespread interest was in the case of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe Railroad company vs. State ex rel from Oklahoma county in which the court held that the state courts are without power to enjoin interstate shipments of intoxicating liquors, while the same are in the hands of the carrier and have been shipped to parties within the state from parties residing and doing business in another state.

That mental anguish and distress caused by the non-delivery of a telegram where there was no actual damages in the absence of a statute upon the subject was held in reversing the case of the Western Union Telegraph company, plaintiffs in error, against John Chouveau, defendant in error.

Act Unconstitutional.

An act of the recent legislature creating a concurrent jurisdiction between district and county courts for the purpose of appeal of cases from the justice courts was declared to be unconstitutional and the district court without appellate jurisdiction in two cases, H. S. Hill et al vs. R. P. Hawkins and Grant vs. Thompson, from Osage county.

In the case of W. B. Stone against the city of Sapulpa it was held in reversing the judgment of the lower court that a city having established a sewer district cannot later enlarge the same and lay sewers in said enlarged district and charge the cost thereof against the property holders.

The question of the construction of a depot by the Frisco at Tahlequah was referred back to the corporation commission for further evidence.

In a Shawnee case it was held that a city in retaining supervision over a contract releases the contractors from liability as an independent contractor.

COURT PASSES ON FOUR PONTOTOC COUNTY CASES

Among the many decisions handed down by the criminal court of appeals yesterday were two from Pontotoc county. In one of these an appeal by Joe Landers on a charge of violating the prohibition law is dismissed. In the other a case against I. Hodge for pointing a gun is reversed and remanded.

The appeal in the liquor case was dismissed as was the case of Doc and Hefley Black.

OKLAHOMA VITAL STATISTICS.

There Were 2,603 Births in Oklahoma in March and 826 Deaths.

Oklahoma City, Ok., May 10.—The vital statistics compiled by the Oklahoma state commissioner of health show that in March, 1911, there were 2,603 births and 826 deaths in Oklahoma. The number of boys born was 1,311 and girls 1,292.

Tuberculosis continued to be the most fatal disease, there being one hundred cases and seventy deaths.

PATRONS CLUB OF NORTH ADA SCHOOL

The Patrons' Club of North Ada organized anew last fall and agreed to co-operate with the teachers of the north school and render any assistance we could to them. Also to take up any work we could for the school, such as building up a school library and beautifying our school grounds.

The children and patrons of the school donated books and a sufficient sum of money to provide a library of 100 choice volumes which were placed in the school library and as all were quickly taken out and read we realized the need of more books and appointed a committee to petition the school board to set aside the sum required by law for school library purposes but the board so far has failed to see this need. Later a series of ten cent teas were given at the homes of different members of the club and a box supper at the school house by which means funds were raised with which material was purchased for swings, trapeze and see-saws, and also $5.00 worth of flower seed, under the direction of Prof. Floyd, the boys constructed the see-saws, swings and other things of amusement, and under the directions of the teachers the children prepared the ground and planted the flower seeds. Also the children donated flowers, rose bushes and shrubs cleaned the grounds and white washed the trees, etc., material for fertilizing was carried to the grounds by pupils and all rubbish was hauled away by boys of the school thereby incurring no expense and adding much to the appearance of our already beautiful campus.

Learning the Pontotoc County Teachers Association was to meet at the North school building April 29th the Patrons' Club decided to serve a lunch to all attending. A two course lunch was served to teachers and visitors and the club felt well repaid in the appreciation shown and the better acquaintance with one another while together.

On Thursday night, May 12th, the Patrons' Club will give a 10c ice cream social on the school lawn. The club expects to continue its meeting and entertainments during the summer.

J. W. Hays is lining things up to begin work on a handsome two story brick residence on his lots at the corner of 14th and Broadway. Work on excavating the basement will begin today or tomorrow and the contract for the building will be let within a few days. W. E. Mallette is drafting the plans.

State University Has Sherlock Holmes Mystery.

Like one of the puzzling mysteries told of by Conan Doyle in his tales of Sherlock Holmes is the strange disappearance of Chas. McCormick which just now is agitating the faculty of the University of Oklahoma and has caused the many under-graduate friends of the missing man no end of uneasiness. McCormick, who is one of the best known and most popular students in school, is business manager of the newly launched student magazine. Over a week ago he went to Oklahoma City to solicit "ads." for the publication, expecting to return the same day. He has never been seen or heard of since. His father was notified and came from his home in Chandler to help find the missing man. The police of the metropolis have been working on the case for several days but without success. McCormick was of exemplary habits, being a leader in the Y. M. C. A. and a man who under no circumstances would be expected to "go on a lark" or drop out of sight purposely. It is feared that he has met with foul play.

Supt. Pierce has appointed Prof. E. A. Dunham as his deputy and he will serve during the rush time. At this season of the year the county superintendent has his heaviest work and it requires much extra exertion to keep up with it all.

An editor gets much advice from his subscribers on how to conduct his paper and various propositions that should be attacked through his editorial columns. Well meant advice is all right and an editor can often get some new ideas from others, for he certainly does not know it all,
but the trouble lies in the fact that some who proffer the advice get mad when the editor does not see fit to follow it. As a matter of fact no paper could begin to apply all the things presented to it, for opin-

The large enrollment of teachers in the normal for the spring review
course is a cause for congratulation.
The Ada normal is the only one in the state giving this course, and it is fast gaining recognition as the real home of the teachers of Oklahoma.
When they have been here once they always have a kindly feeling for the school and become boosters for it wherever they go. The only obstacle now in the way of the Ada normal is the lack of a dormitory. With that the Ada institution would indeed
come into its own and would soon
eclipse any other normal in the state.
May that day quickly dawn.

Ada has always held the world's record for pretty girls, and just now
the crowd is considerably augmented by a number of the finest looking young teachers that ever assembled
under the roof of one normal.
Wouldn't the guy who edits the Durant Democrat and who has been doing some bragging of late turn green with envy if he could spend an hour in Ada. He would go 'way back and sit down where no one could see him with anything less than a 100
diameter microscope.

Many men would get along better and make more of a success of their lives if they could only be brought to make a distinction between firmness and bull headedness. Firmness is a valuable trait of character, while bull headedness is more often a detriment.

Congressman Morgan of the Oklahoma City district seems to be trying to please all of his constituents. A year ago he supported Joe Cannon and the standpatters and voted for the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill. A day or two ago he voted for the democratic free list just as it came from the committee.

It is rumored that two or three initiative or referendum petitions will soon be in circulation calling for elections on measures advocated by various interests. The people of Oklahoma are becoming so everlasting-ly tired of being in the midst of a campaign all the year around that it will not require many more elections to bring about a general demand for the repeal of the initiative and referendum feature of the constitution.
These provisions should never be invoked unless some flagrant abuse or neglect has been perpetrated by the legislature.

OKLAHOMA ITEMS.

who was an unsuccessful candidate for state auditor in 1907, and who later published a paper in five Indian languages, has sued the Ft. Smith & of $250,000 alleging that he suffered much pain and financial loss and finally became a dope fiend as a result of being struck in the eye by a fendant railroad company.

PHONE COMMUNICATION FROM NEW YORK TO DENVER

New York, May 10.—For the first time in history, the human voice carried 2,000 miles direct last night when New York found Denver over the long distance telephone wires.
Manhattan newspaper men in a downtown skyscraper talking to a group
in the Colorado city, picked up Omaha on the way, and also gossiped with Chicago.

A "phantom" telephone, connected with four copper wires the thickness of a lead pencil, brought the cities together. Twenty-two persons were exchanging messages by telephone and telegraph at once over these four wires.

While the reporters talked, sixteen telegraph operators worked the New York-Chicago ends of four diplex telegraph instruments.

Same four wires and the same current sufficed for the simultaneous needs of twenty-two senders of messages.

Majority of 4,894 Against Amendment

Oklahoma City, Ok., May 10.—The proposed legislative substitute for Sec. 9, Art. IX, of the constitution, submitted to a vote of the people
April 25, was defeated by 4,894 majority, according to official returns certified to the governor's office tonight.
The last county to come in was Osage which gave 458 for the amendment and 96 against it. Revised figures from Comanche county were 1,720 for and 714 against the amendment. No election was held in Delaware, Mc-Curtain or Seminole counties, and forty precincts in Osage and a large number in LeFlore did not vote. The total vote was: For the amendment 41,768, against the amendment 46,- 662.

In the Davis Zinc Fields.

Davis, Ok., May 10.—Another mill,
the third one to be placed in the Arbuckle zinc field, arrived Tuesday
and will be put in place at the earliest possible date. It was sold by Mr.
Boyer of Joplin to Chandler & Hubbard and is to be erected on some of C. L. McGuire's land. The mill is said to be of large capacity. Other mills are expected to follow shortly and the general prediction is that the whole field will be covered with concentrating mills before the year is over.

City Council Will Not Get Out.

Oklahoma City, Ok., May 9.—The
city council of Oklahoma City this afternoon passed a resolution refusing to give up their offices to make way for the incoming mayor and commissioners elected here today under the new commission form of government. They declare they will test the validity of the new charter in the courts.

They allege that the special election at which the charter was adopted was illegal because the legislature has never provided a way by which such special election might be held. Most of the present city officers ran for office at the recent primary election, but were defeated.
The court refused to enjoin the holding of the primary election.

A MERCHANT

WHO DOES NOT ADVERTISE

Believes it More Profitable to Sell to People Who Know Little About What Things Should Cost!

He is content to do without the patronage of the people who read ads--and who thus KNOW PRICES and VALUES--if he can get a "lucky share," through "location" or other reasons, of the patronage of people who are not educated, by advertisements, to "know."

He realizes that as soon as any of his patrons become ad readers, he loses their trade--but he hopes that there may always be a great per centage of shoppers who do not read ads. And he knows that with such shoppers he stands on equal footing with the enterprising merchant.

The housewife will find more time to go about if she has electricity installed in her home, because she will be able to get her work done quicker and easier. For instance, all housewives know how much labor is lost in walking back and forth from the stove to change irons when it comes to ironing. The new way—the electric way—eliminates this. Your iron is always at your service by merely pressing a button. An even temperature, therefore better work.
You can do your ironing wherever it is convenient—in the kitchen,
sewing room, the porch in hot weather—wherever there is a light socket. You can also cook, bake, operate your sewing machine, your washing machine and light your home with this modern servant. Call and let us tell you more about it.

YOUNG MOTHERS

is woman's safest reliance; it is a medicine for external use, composed of oils and other ingredients which assist nature in all necessary physical changes of the system. Its regular use before the coming of baby prepares the muscles and tendons for the unusual strain, aids in expanding the skin and flesh fibres, and strengthens all the membranes and tissues. Mother's Friend lessens the pain and danger at the crisis, and leaves the mother in such healthful condition that her recovery is always rapid and natural. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. ## OKLAHOMA CITY VOTES FOR SCHOOL BONDS

Oklahoma City, May 10.—The vote on an issue of $235,000 in bonds by the school district of Oklahoma City for the erection of new ward school buildings, carried by a majority of about 1,600 votes, although the complete returns on this were not in at 3 a. m. The vote in 35 out of 38 precincts was 2,950 in favor of the issue and 1,114 against. This vote was much lighter than that on city officials, due to lack of interest and the fact that there were separate voting places in each precinct.

TEDDY MAY TAKE

TRIP TO ARCTIC

New York, May 9.—According to Captain "Bob" Bartlett, big game hunting has more attractions for Theodore Roosevelt than the next presidential campaign. At least that's the way the colonel sees it now.

Having filled his bag with tropical fauna, the colonel plans in the summer of 1912 to try his luck at polar bears in Greenland. Captain "Bob" says he has the colonel's acceptance pledged.

Shaughnessy Wins Over McFarland.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 9.—Pete Shaughnessy of Tulsa knocked out Young McFarland of Denver with a clean body blow in the ninth round, here tonight before a crowd that packed the club rooms. McFarland was in distress from the sixth round, but put up a game fight. A left to the stomach did the work.

Pioneer Telephone Valuation Raised.

Oklahoma City, May 10.—The state board of equalization Tuesday afternoon fixed the amount of property of the Pioneer Telephone and Telephone company at $3,336,000 or 200 per cent more than the valuation made by the company; of the Western Union Telegraph company, $1,450,000. The board adjourned Tuesday to meet next Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Farmer Killed by Lightning.

Beaver, Ok., May 9.—During the recent thunderstorm, J. S. Morris, living near Malkery, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. He was working in the cornfield with a lister when the accident occurred. O. C. Green, an expert in concrete work, has been here the past few days conferring on business matters with I. Wymore.

If you want lightning rods on your house—and you do—let a home man sell them to you. ## Will Test Ferret Law.

Oklahoma City, May 9.—A suit that will test the act known as the "tax ferret law" was filed in the supreme court yesterday.

The style of the case is W. D. Anderson against F. J. Dyer, county treasurer of Woods County. Anderson was one of the "tax ferrets" appointed under the act providing for the same to hunt out back taxes and property that had escaped assessment by the county assessors. This he claims to have done, having gone back as far as 1891 in his investigation. The county treasurer of Woods county, however, refused to collect the taxes on such property and plain tiff sued for writ of mandamus in the district court, which was refused. He appealed.

Clean Sweep of Ardmore Police.

Ardmore, Ok., May 9.—The new board of city commissioners made practically a clean sweep in the police department tonight, only two old policemen being retained temporarily. Joe Atkinson succeeds Smith Redmon as chief of police. Ordinances were passed clamping the lid down tight.

The lack of water with which to sprinkle the streets before sweeping has seriously impeded the work of gathering up the sweepings to be hauled away. However, the News is informed that P. A. Norris has volunteered to come to the rescue with a supply of water from the oil mill. With that aid the work can proceed rapidly and a long stay taken in keeping the streets clean.

LAKE BAIKAL A BIG PUZZLE

Varied and Peculiar Animal Life Found in Body of Water in Central Asia.

The riddle of Lake Baikal, in central Asia, is similar to that of Lake Tanganyika, in central Africa. In both cases a large body of fresh water remote from the ocean contains organisms apparently marine. Both lakes, again, contain a very large number of species not found elsewhere. Lake Baikal contains numerous salmon and seals, as well as three species of herring. It also contains a few mollusca of apparently marine forms. One of the most remarkable features of the lake, perhaps, is that although it is frozen over for about five months in the year the animal life is extremely abundant and varied. This may be partly accounted for perhaps by the existence of hot springs.

One of the latest attempts to answer the riddle of Lake Baikal is that of the Russian investigator, M. Berg. Of the thirty-three species of fish found in the lake he finds that fourteen are peculiar to it, while nineteen have a wide distribution in Siberia and Europe. Many of these peculiar species are without near relations anywhere. Of the mollusca 90 per cent are peculiar.

M. Berg does not think the facts demand the hypothesis that the lake was once marine. He believes that it has always been fresh and that the fauna peculiar to it has had a two-fold origin. A part has originated in the lake itself during the long ages of its existence, and the rest is a portion of the palaearctic, fresh water fauna of Siberia which it has preserved. Japan Advertiser.

DALMATIAN ANTS ARE COOKS

They Make Dough From Seeds, Form Cakes and Bake Them in the Sun.

The remarkable habits of the harvester ant have long been known to naturalists. Certain species not only harvest and store in granaries the seeds upon which they feed but actually plant and cultivate an annual crop of their food seeds.

But now a still more wonderful story is told of an ant which is common in Dalmatia, Messor barbarus. According to Professor Neger of the well known forestry school near Dresden, this ant not only cuts leaves and gathers seeds but actually makes bread or biscuit.

The seeds are first sprouted, then carried into the sun and dried, then taken back to the underground chambers, where they are chewed into a dough. The dough is then finally made into tiny cakes, which are baked in the sun, then carefully stored for future use.

From these observations it appears that the art of cookery is not wholly confined to the human race. All cooking is done by the sun, whether in the ripening of fruit or in the baking of bread in a stove. The heat obtained from fuel is simply stored up sunlight set free.

The Arab and the native Mexican speak of ripe fruit as fruit which has been cooked in the sun. The ant has somehow learned the art of sun cookery, the saliva with which it moistens the grain probably taking the place of yeast and sweetening through changes set up by its influence upon starch.—American Medicine.

The Scientific Butler.

Science in its more awful forms is not confined to schoolboy howlers. One of the witty Canon Alinger's stories—quoted in Mr. E. V. Lucas' delightful anthology of letters, entitled "The Second Post"—proves it.

At a country house party a maid was dressing a guest's hair.

"I hope, Parker," said the lady, "you are comfortable in your place?"
"Oh, yes, ma'am," the maid replied, with great warmth. "The society down stairs is so superior. The butler leads the conversation."

"He is a refined man," she continued, with rising enthusiasm. "Indeed, quite scientific. He has been telling us all about evolution, and we quite understand it now."

"He says," the maid concluded, earnestly, "that we are all descended from Darwin."—Youth's Companion.
